PRICE FIVE CENTS

SENTENCE ON COUNTY YOUTH IS SUSPENDED

Donald Myers, 22, of Gardners R. 1, charged with driving after his license was suspended, was given a suspended sentence by the Adams County court Monday afternoon on condition he pay $150 for the use of the county and the costs in the case.

The sentence was nanded down during an afternoon devoted mostly to arguments on civil suits and hearings on support cases.

Argument was heard on the preliminary objections to the decree of the court in the equity action brought by Paul G. and Jean E. Witt, Highland Ave., against the Steinwehr Ave. Development Corporation and Howard Johnson Motor Lodge. Attorney John A. MacPhail, for Witt, claimed that representations of the Colt Park Development Corporation, in not specifically setting aside part of the Johns land for commercial purposes, indicated that all of the Johns property was part of Colt Park and therefore all restricted. He stressed testimony given in a court hearing pertaining to the planned establishment of a public school in the Colt Park area in which no specific designation of the area east of Johns St. as "commercial" was given but instead was intimated that the "Colt Park area" was all residential.

Fantasyland Action
Attorney Edward B. Bulleit, for the Steinwehr Development Corporation, declared that the court was right when it decided against giving Witt an injunction preventing construction of the Howard Johnson Motor Lodge.

In argument on preliminary objections to the plaintiff's amended complaint in the equity suit brought by LeRoy S. and Esther W. Apper against Fantasyland, Inc., Attorney Eugene Hartman for the Appers argued that seventeen feet of a road built into Fantasyland on the "first course" of land sold by the Appers to Fantasyland is on land set aside by the Appers for another owner. Declaring that the deed to Fantasyland prohibited "commercialization" of the front of the property, he contended that erection of telephone lines and an electric power pole on the front of the property "is a continuing trespass since the phone and power are used for commercial purposes."

Equity Action
Argument was heard on the petition of Carrie B. Olinger, York St., against Murray W. and Ruby Lee Eyer for a rehearing in her equity suit. Attorney Donald G. (Continued On Page 2)

The programs will commemorate the 96th anniversary of Lincoln's Gettysburg Address and the sesquicentennial year.

The band will make the trip to Gettysburg in buses, will be served lunch here, play a concert in the northeast segment of Lincoln Square from 1:45 until 2:15 p.m., head a procession to the National Cemetery and furnish the music at the cemetery exercises.

At the conclusion of the exercises the band will play a medley of Lincoln music while the anticipated large audience disperses.

UNICEF DRIVE IN THIS COUNTY NETTED $881.90

Adams County collected $881.90 during the "Tricks or Treats for UNICEF" program held over the Halloween period, Mrs. Donald E. Horst, chairman, announced today.

Youngsters from Keefeauver Elementary School secured $191.72, those from St. Francis Xavier School $96 and those from Eisenhower School $77.96.

The chairman for the Gettysburg youngsters' "trick or treat" program, Mrs. John C. GIVES ADDRESS ON ART MONDAY

Approximately 175 persons heard Prof. Oliver W. Larkin, an authority on American art, call architecture the contemporary art "likely to survive" in an address Monday evening at the SCA building, Gettysburg College. He is professor of art at Smith College, Northampton, Mass.

"Unlike many modern painters," he said, "the architect is not autonomous and does not lose contact with people. Americans have been willing to accept experiment in architecture—probably because it works," he asserted. He called American architecture since World War II "probably our greatest artistic contribution to the world during this period."

He discussed visual arts in the U. S. since 1945, showing how the "cold war climate" has affected artists.

"The artist does not have as firm and sure a place in national life now as he did during the 1930's. Our national effort has been aimed at power rather than moral and esthetic values. Artists have been appalled by outbreaks of intolerance against contemporary art and the artists' private lives, he declared."

Larkin scored mass media for "actually destroying or corrupting art. The artist is contending against a half-educated or mis-educated environment. His feeling is one of alienation and discouragement. He keenly feels a diminishment of his effect upon society," Larkin said.

Five Teen-agers Are Drowned

LONGVIEW, Wash. (AP)—Five teen-agers drowned Monday night when a car missed a turn at an intersection and plunged into a slough. A companion clung his way to safety.

Skindivers managed to get a line on the vehicle hours later and rescue crews pulled it to the surface. Two bodies were found inside. Three others were recovered in dragging operations.

Hughes identified his companions as Doug Randolph, 17, driver of the car; Jerry Walston, 15; Floyd Walston, 13; Bill Webster, 16, and Dick Webster, 13. All were from Longview.

Space Exploration Budget Is Studied Today By Ike

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP)—President Eisenhower put in 70 minutes today going over space problems and the budget for space exploration with Dr. T. Keith Glennan. Glennan is administrator of NASA—the National Aeronautics and Space Agency. He flew down from Washington to back up NASA requests for additional funds for the 1961 fiscal year starting next July 1.

The President received him in his temporary office at Augusta National Golf Club at 8 a.m. Glennan left at 9:10, relaying word to newsmen there was nothing he could discuss with them.

Work On Trip Details
The space conference out of the way, Eisenhower got his daily briefing on intelligence reports from White House staff secretary Andrew J. Goodpastor. The two also discussed more details on the President's December trip to 11 European, Asian and African nations, a spokesman said.

Then, with an eye on the weather, the President hurried onto the golf course for his sixth round in six days he has been here. The weatherman predicted rain for later in the day.

LOCAL STORES ARE PRAISED BY ROTARIANS

"No where else in the world does one find the personal interest he finds in the stores in Gettysburg," Lt. Col. Corvan S. Bryan, Cashtown, told the Gettysburg Rotary Club Monday evening at its meeting in the YWCA.

During the course of a panel discussion on "Buyer-Seller Relations," the Rotarians learned from their fellow members that Gettysburg is a "cosmopolitan" shopping center; that the tastes of customers are constantly improving; that chain store competition is making better stores out of all establishments and that the individual interest taken by local merchants in their customers is the town's most valued shopping attraction.

Harold Reuning, Shoe Box proprietor, stressed the cosmopolitan aspect, noting "this is probably the only small community in the world where you are likely to have a customer from Massachusetts in the morning and one from California in the afternoon. The tourist, here to see the battlefield, also visits the stores when he, or more likely she, sees something in the windows that attracts."

Tastes Improving
William G. Weaver, proprietor of the Jennie Wade House, stressed the "greater taste" of the tourist purchaser. "Twenty years ago the biggest item was horribly garish pillow covers. I don't believe we sold one this summer, in fact I don't think we have any for sale. Each year it seems the tourist is seeking a higher quality souvenir. In fact the souvenir business is turning into a gift business. The articles that are purchased are much more in the quality gift item field. Once you could not sell anything without a Gettysburg decal on it. Now many of our customers don't want the decals. We keep them on hand for those who want them, but most are purchasing gifts and quality items at that."

Mares Sherman, proprietor of Sherman's Clothing Store, said chain store competition has "helped make all of us better merchants. We had to compete and (Continued On Page 10)

NAMED TO CD POST

Paul E. Hiltbrich Jr., Littlestown, has been appointed as Civil Defense director for Littlestown by Governor Lawrence, it was announced Monday in Harrisburg.

The Adams County court Monday afternoon issued a temporary injunction preventing Charles F. Miller, Gettysburg R. 2, from blocking a lane leading to the Paul L. Plank Jr. sanitary landfill operation on land of Mrs. Dorothy K. Wood in Highland Twp.

Friday morning at 10 o'clock was set as the time for a hearing by the court to determine whether a permanent injunction should be granted.

Attorney John D. Thrush, presenting the petition for an injunction by Plank and Mrs. Wood in court late Monday afternoon, said Miller had blocked the road starting at 8 o'clock Monday morning.

Fear "Irreparable Harm"

According to the petition to the court: "On the 16th day of November at 8 a.m. and all times since then, to and including the present, the defendant (Miller), his agents, servants, employees and others acting in concert and participation through and with him have unlawfully blocked the entrance to the said Wood farm by placing an obstruction across the way into the said farm and by threatening to begin legal action and criminal prosecution and by otherwise indicating that the said lane will be obstructed."

Holding that the lane, which traverses land owned by Miller, is "the sole and exclusive way to secure entrance to the land" of Mrs. Wood on which the landfill is located, the petition claims "The actions of the defendant (Miller), his agents, servants and employees in blocking the lane leading to the farm has and will result in irreparable harm to the plaintiffs (Plank and Mrs. Wood) by making it impossible for those employees who wish to work to get to work and carry out their legitimate duties upon said Wood farm . . . and further, the welfare of the community at large can be adversely affected by such prohibition and the difficulty in placing the waste materials carried by the plaintiff, Plank."

The petition claims the lane "has been in existence for a period in excess of 50 years and has been used for varied purposes, including agricultural purposes, transportation by trucks of peaches, transportation by trucks of stone, use by stone crushing equipment, use by automobiles, persons on foot and all other uses to which the property of Dorothy K. Wood does lend itself."

The blocking of the road leading to the sanitary landfill on the Wood property is one of a series of problems that has befallen the disposal of garbage and debris (Continued On Page 3) in the area over the last several years. The Gettysburg owned borough dump in Cumberland Twp. was ordered closed by the state and township, and has been closed.

Attempts began to operate a sanitary landfill to replace the dump have run afoul of problem after problem. When attempts were made to open a landfill in Cumberland Twp., petitioners forced abandonment. For a time it appeared that Straban Twp. would permit establishment of a landfill there but petitioners and personal visitations by groups of persons with petitions to supervisors meetings prevented a landfill in Straban, Mt. Joy was considered and an ordinance prevented it. A landfill was established by Plank in Freedom Twp. and again petitioners appeared and the township supervisors closed that landfill. A Republican supervisor who was one of the two who closed the Freedom landfill was defeated at the general election although Republicans generally received majorities in the township.

In Highland the supervisors entered into an agreement permitting the landfill which has been in operation for several weeks until the blockade was applied Monday.

ARS SEES FILM
ON SPACE TRIP

WASHINGTON (AP) — Soviet scientists have documented space experiments with motion picture films they say show rats, mice and dogs on rocket flights through space.

The half-hour film was shown Monday night at a meeting of the American Rocket Society. It reportedly was the first time the full film had been shown outside the Soviet Union, although portions had been shown earlier.

Prof. Anatoly A. Blagonravov, member of the U.S.S.R. Academy of Sciences, said the pictures were made during several dozen launchings he said extended from 1951 to 1957.

The films included views of rats and mice struggling, spinning and floating about their cages. A number of pictures of dogs also were included.

in connection with the meeting on Sunday, December 13.

to 18 inches deep. Now it averages four, six and eight inches with the prospect of having it depleted further unless conservation methods are used.

Lions Vote Donations
The importance of conserving soil resources was pointed up by Mr. Unger who gave figures on the rapidly growing world population. The toll in soil and wealth taken by erosion, poor pastures, ruthless timber cutting and resulting floods, droughts and silting of harbors and river channels was described by the speaker.

He said soil conservation is the "fastest growing agricultural movement" in the U.S. in the last 20 years. Fifty-one of Pennsylvania's counties, among them Adams, have their own soil conservation districts with cooperating land owners adopting contour and strip farming, developing farm ponds and other soil management practices aimed at conservation of oil, wild life, timber supplies and all the other benefits that result.

During a brief business session the Lions voted $1 per member to Beacon Lodge for the blind, a state Lions' project near Mt. Union, and gave $25 to the county tuberculosis society. Fruit cakes were distributed to be sold by members to bolster the charity fund and members were asked to complete their Community Chest solicitations.

LAVA FLOWING FROM KILAUEA

HONOLULU (AP) — Glowing lava continued to belch from a roaring fountain in Kilauea crater today amid predictions the four-day-old eruption would continue for some time.

Although only one of the dozen original fiery fountains was active, it spouted tremendous jets of molten rock into the pit of the crater and blasted rock and lava more than 100 feet into the air. Billowing clouds of steam and sulphur gas continue to rise thousands of feet into the sky.

Reports from the Kilauea volcano site on Hawaii Island, some 200 miles southeast of Honolulu, said the roar from the single, spouting fountain seemed louder than all 12 fountains combined.

Out Of The Past

From the Files of the Star and Sentinel and The Gettysburg Times

FIFTY YEARS AGO
Virginia Denied Requested Site: Governor Swanson, of Virginia, and Colonel Thomas Smith, two members of the Virginia Monument Commission, met at Washington this week with General John P. Nicholson and General L. L. Lomax, of the Gettysburg National Park Commission and Secretary of War Dickinson to request that a site be granted at the Bloody Angle for Virginia's monument to her troops who fought in this battle.

The request was denied on the ground that there was no available site at the Angle and that all monuments be placed along the lines of battle only. It was also agreed that no Federal monuments be placed along the Confederate line of battle, and that no Confederate monuments be placed along the Union lines. It is expected that the President will issue an order making this a binding precedent. When the Virginia Commission visited Gettysburg some months ago it was generally believed that the memorial would be placed on West Confederate Avenue overcharge and many believe that that place will ultimately be chosen. The monument, according to present plans, will have a huge granite base surmounted by an equestrian statue of General Robert E. Lee and will be a memorial not only to the leader of the Confederate troops here but also to the Virginia regiments which took part in this battle.

Dr. H. B. Nixon has sold to Martin Winter a lot of ground at corner of Carlisle Road and Howards avenue.

Announcement: I have purchased the harness store at 52 York street, lately conducted by H. H. Thomas. I will carry at all times a full line of harnesses, collars, bridles and everything pertaining to the harness business — G. W. Beiler.

Announcement: Dr. J. E. Musselman, who has been practicing dentistry at Fairfield for the past several years, will remove to 34½ Baltimore street, Gettysburg, about November twenty third, where he will be glad to see his former patrons as well as the people of Gettysburg.

Farmers Worry Over Drought: Farmers all over Adams county are greatly worried over the effects of the long continued drought. Wells are now becoming dry which have never been known to fail and farmers are up against the proposition of driving their stock to water or else hauling water to their farms from nearby streams. The former plan is generally very unsatisfactory for, if they have to go any distance, the stock is as thirsty when they return as before they started out. Few farmers in the county are equipped to haul water and so the matter is quite serious.

Adams County Saves $1,250. The county of Adams will save about $1,250 each year through the operation of the new election law. Under the new law Adams county, as well as the entire state, will have but one primary and one general election each year. The primary election will be held in June and the general election in November. The February election will be dispensed with.

New Building Being Rushed: With the near approach of winter contractors are hurrying along work in the various buildings in town which are being erected under their direction.

Today's Talk

SIGNIFICANT THINGS
I think many people fume away a mass of energy and power through a failure to note and grasp the really significant things in life.

For instance, how many wonderful men and women come to the edge of life's cloud, after the futile chase for money, fame and position. As though significance were perishable! William E. H. Lecky, the Irish historian and essayist, in one of his most interesting and thought-provoking essays, brings out this idea very wonderfully. He says: "It is one of the paradoxes of human nature that the things that are most struggled for and the things that are most envied are not those which give either the most intense or the most unmix joy."

The things that make life very significant and worth while are to be found in simple places and in simple things. The "Daddy" love, for instance, that jumps like electric sparklets from little chubby arms that lock your neck at nighttime, the knowledge that you may have failed, perhaps, but in reality won, and in the dozen or more plain "everydays" that mark your way along. It is in these things that you are sure to find joy and grandeur.

Some years ago I saw a man, by a little dog, approach the curb of a very busy city street. No one seemed to notice. But a little chap, from somewhere, spurted out, took the blind man's arm and led him safely across.

What a significant thing that was to do!

Tomorrow Mr. Adams will talk on the subject: "Moods."

Just Folks

HIS LIFE WORK
He made no special bid for fame,
He dreamed no greater dream
than this:
The splendor of an honest name,
The joy within his baby's kiss,
No deed of glory marked his years,
But as he lived from day to day
He quickly dried his loved ones' tears
And brushed a lot of care away.
But little for himself he sought;
He chose to tread the quiet ways,
Among the ranks of men he fought;
But home was where he looked for praise.
If they were proud of him, and smiled
To see him coming home at night,
To life his soul was reconciled
And he possessed supreme delight.

N. H. Musselman's new home on East Middle street presents a handsome appearance. Work on this is also near the final stages. When completed the house will be one of the most substantial in town. The portico has been erected in front of the new Gettysburg National Bank building and the general appearance of the building can now be seen. The interior work will occupy the attention of the workmen from now on. It is believed that the bank will be ready for occupancy on or before March 1.

The double house of Miss Sadie Schriver on York street is also nearing the time when it will be ready for occupancy as is that of Mrs. Richards on Springs avenue.

The resident occupied on Broadway by Mr. Frank Rudisill is undergoing very extensive improvements. A large two story brick addition is being erected by Martin Winter, owner of the property.

Dennis Twomey's double house on Hanover street is being hurried along and will in a short time be completed.

GOP WOMEN HEAR MARTIN

HARRISBURG (AP) — Edward Martin, former governor of Pennsylvania and one-time U. S. senator, declared today there should be as little government as is consistent with public safety. But everyone has an obligation to take part in politics to assure clean, decent and economical government, Martin added in remarks prepared for the 37th annual convention of the State Council of Republican Women.

"We cannot blame big government and expensive government on anyone if we do not do our full duty," he added. "Politics, next after the home, the church and the school, is the most important activity in America."

In the principal address at the group's banquet Monday night, a state department official said the exchange of visits of Soviet and

Editor's note: Continuing on-the-spot coverage of presidential hopefuls by The Associated Press, Pulitzer Prize-winner Nelson A. Rockefeller recently out-laid an old statute which made such daily readings mandatory.

The case, involving a Montgomery County school district, is still on appeal in the higher courts. Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alperin has interpreted the court ruling to mean that public school Bible reading may be continued on a voluntary basis.

The legislation would knock out a provision subjecting a teacher to dismissal if she failed to lead her class in Bible reading each day.

Other legislative developments: Final Adjournment—Senate Republicans battled behind closed doors in an effort to resolve their position on final adjournment of the 1959 Legislature—but the effort failed.

Sen. James S. Berger, Republican floor leader, reportedly led an attempt to bring about the wind-up by the end of this week. But backers of Sen. M. Harvey Taylor, president pro tempore, insisted on staying in session until Jan. 5, the convening date of the 1960 session.

Taylor's move is designed to prevent Democrats from taking over control of the Public Utility Commission and some 200 patronage jobs, now in Republican hands, that go with it.

As long as the Senate stays in session, the two Democrats appointed by Gov. Lawrence cannot assume their PUC posts. The five-member commission is now reduced to two Republicans and one Democrat.

Conforming to political tradition, he merely says, "Whoever the Republicans nominate will be elected."

In the West, he made a number of speeches. Sprinkled through the audiences, except at the strictly Republican party shindigs, were numerous people who identified themselves as Democrats and independents.

Some said they liked him. Some were noncommittal. He tried hard to erase any image of himself as a political glamor boy, equipped only with charm and good looks.

Noncommittal
He says he doesn't believe the Republican nomination is in anybody's pocket.

"I haven't seen any evidence of what I presume you would call political commitments," he said. "I would assume that the delegates would not put their votes today in an envelope and seal them and then just take them out on the day of the convention." He indicates now that his next move will be a foray into the Midwest, probably in late December. It may take him into Wisconsin, scene of one of the nation's most important weather-vane primary elections.

ROCHESTER, N. Y. (AP)—The "continental look" in men's clothes appears to be a permanent thing, according to many delegates at the 100th semi-annual convention of the International Assn. of Clothing Designers. It is described as an American creation which includes some Italian ideas featuring "a shorter coat, narrow pants, side vents, rather square shoulders, narrow lapels and a rounded coat front."

American leaders are an attempt to bridge the gap of misunderstanding between East and West.

William W. Scranton, of Glen Burn, Pa., special assistant to the secretary of state, said that in dealing with communism there is no substitute for a policy of steady firmness, of teaching the Soviets that their continual pressures will not pay off in the long run.

Senate Has Bill To Make Bible Reading Voluntary

HARRISBURG (AP)—A plan to allow Bible reading in Pennsylvania's public schools on a voluntary basis headed for floor action in the Senate today.

The Senate Rules Committee approved the House-passed legislation Monday night. U. S. District Court in Philadelphia recently out-laid an old statute which made such daily readings mandatory.

The case, involving a Montgomery County school district, is still on appeal in the higher courts. Atty. Gen. Anne X. Alperin has interpreted the court ruling to mean that public school Bible reading may be continued on a voluntary basis.

The legislation would knock out a provision subjecting a teacher to dismissal if she failed to lead her class in Bible reading each day.

HOUSE GETS EIGHT BILLS FROM SENATE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The Senate has approved and sent to the House eight appropriations bills totaling more than $370,000, including a controversial $250,000 grant for the Dickinson School of Law, Carlisle.

The measure allocating the money to Dickinson was passed 47-3 Monday after a debate. The other seven proposals were passed unanimously without comment.

Opponents of the measure said it would "open the door" to requests from other institutions.

Some Oppose
Sens. Harry E. Seyler (D-York), Jo Hays (D-Centre) and Paul W. Mahady (D-Westmoreland) said they voted against the Dickinson grant because there was no rule on which universities or colleges received state grants and no formula to decide how much.

"It seems the amount you get is based upon the number of friends you have in this group (the Legislature)," declared Mahady.

Seyler and Hays argued against adding new institutions of higher learning to present state commitments.

"No Different"
However, Sen. Thomas A. Ehrgood (R-Lebanon) said the appropriation was no different than appropriations to the law schools of Pennsylvania, Pennsylvania State, Temple or Pittsburgh universities.

The other appropriation bills approved and sent to the House would: Provide $42,500 to complete a girls' dormitory at the Downingtown Industrial and Agricultural School, Downingtown.

Provide $3,000 to help plan for the 100th anniversary of the Battle of Gettysburg and Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

GOVERNMENT SET TO RAP LABOR UNIONS

By NORMAN WALKER
WASHINGTON (AP)—A knock-out blow is being aimed at labor rackets by all three branches of the federal government — executive, judicial and legislative.

Secretary of Labor James P. Mitchell said the new labor law passed by Congress and administered by his department already is beginning to rid unions of corrupt elements. He said it also is giving union members a full voice in running their organizations.

Court-appointed monitors today charted a speedy new cleanup drive of the big scandal-ridden Teamsters Union.

Court Refusal
The Supreme Court refused Monday to set aside lower court decisions arming the monitors with sweeping reform enforcement powers. Teamsters President James R. Hoffa said the union, though disappointed at the ruling, will "live up to the court's decision." But he said it still may challenge individual reform orders.

Mitchell, reporting on the first two months of operation of the anticorruption provisions of the new labor law, said some union officials with criminal or Communist backgrounds already have quit union office. He said nearly 100 complaints are under active investigation and some will be turned over to the Justice Department for prosecution.

Tells Of Reaction
Mitchell disclosed that the president of an independent Passaic, N.J., local quit during a Labor Department investigation into whether the official was continuing to serve despite a new ban against criminals or Communists holding union office.

Mitchell did not identify the individual. The secretary said a number of Teamsters officials have similarly been ousted.

Student Bodies To Double By '70

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A business executive predicts Pennsylvania colleges will double their enrollments, faculties and sports programs by 1970.

"Kids are hitting the books harder than in my day," said Thomas B. McCabe, of Chester, Pa., president of the Scott Paper Co. "They'll be doing it harder in the years to come. Their physical development must keep pace with the mental."

McCabe, a center on the 1914 Swarthmore College football team, said small colleges should require every able-bodied student to play some competitive sport, just as the service academies do.

He spoke Monday at the Maxwell Football Club's weekly luncheon. He is a former chairman of the Federal Reserve Board.

LICHTENFELD TO SUCCEED GOP JUDGE

HARRISBURG (AP)—The nomination of Samuel Lichtenfeld, Wayne Democrat, to succeed a Republican as Common Pleas Court judge in Chester has been unanimously confirmed by the Senate.

Sen. Thomas P. Harney R. (Chester) expressed opposition to the appointment of the Chester County Democratic chairman to the vacancy. However, he voted for the confirmation Monday on the ground that it was the governor's responsibility to name the replacement for former Judge Ernest Harvey who resigned last Sept. 1.

The senator said he was fully convinced that Chester County voters of both parties would register strong disapproval of the governor's action in the 1961 election.

UNANIMOUS CONFIRMATION

The Senate also unanimously confirmed the appointment of former judge Harold L. Pau, Port Carbon, as common pleas judge for Schuylkill County. He will fill the vacancy caused by the death of former judge Cyrus M. Palmer.

Both men will serve until the first Monday in January 1962.

At the same time the Senate confirmed these appointments: State Council of Education—O. H. English, Abington, Montgomery County, and James H. Duckrey, Cheyney Delaware County.

Coadale State Hospital Board—Mrs. Helen Dougherty, J. M. Thorpe, Charles McFadden, Summit Hill; Frank H. Evans, Nesquehoning, and Mrs. Anna C. Kadak, Lansford, all Carbon County.

PICK VASELL OF COLUMBIA FOR GRID HONOR

NEW YORK (AP)—Tom Vassel, a bright spot in an otherwise dismal football season for Buff Donelli's Columbia Lions, today was named the Eastern College Athletic Conference's Sophomore of the Week.

The 19-year-old quarterback from Maywood, N. J. completed 15 of 33 passes for 189 yards and one touchdown last Saturday as the Lions lost to Penn 24-6 for their seventh straight setback after winning their opener with Brown. The 15 completions tied the Ivy League mark for one game.

Vassel's top receiver, end Bob Federspiel from Philadelphia, was chosen for the weekly All-East team compiled after a poll of the writers. The Columbia junior caught six passes for 123 yards and an Ivy League career record.

Pat McCue of Boston University was named at the other end.

Selected for the backfield were Yale quarterback Tom Singleton, Roger Circone of Brown, Bill Schockley of West Chester and Murdoch MacDonald of Tufts.

Rounding out the line are tackles Walt Meincke of Lehigh and Jim Brady of Bucknell, guards Earl Kohlsaat of Penn State and Ken Dinisio of Amherst and center Anthony Losapio of Albright.

For Meincke and MacDonald it was the third time this season they were named to the All-East eleven.

SEND FEELERS TO 6 TEAMS FOR LIBERTY BOWL

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—Feelers have gone to six major college football teams to play in the Liberty Bowl, and Bud Dudley, promoter of the bowl, has confirmed that Penn State has been invited as the host team.

Dudley confirmed Monday an earlier Associated Press report that Penn State had been invited to play in the first annual bowl game Dec. 19 in the 100,000 seat Municipal Stadium.

Dudley said he hoped Penn State (8-1) would accept the invitation. He said the State team, ranked seventh nationally, would be guaranteed $150,000 to appear.

Ernie McCoy, athletic director at Penn State, has said no announcement of post-season bowl plans will be made until the team completes its regular season Saturday against Pitt.

Dudley said feelers have gone to Texas Christian, the Air Force Academy, second-ranked Mississippi, sixth-ranked Georgia, third-ranked Louisiana State, and 19th-ranked Clemson.

McCoy, too, confirmed that Penn State had received a bowl invitation, and said:

"We wouldn't put the kids on the spot by saying we'll be in a bowl right now. If we do accept, it will only be because the ball players elected to go."

"I'll probably take the invitation to the president this week but how the players feel is primary with us."

Rip Ringle, Penn State's football coach, said he had no idea what the final decision would be.

"I'll be happy to go along with whatever they want me to do," he told a reporter. "I'm sure they will consider the boys' wishes."

BOXING PROBE WILL BRING IN SOME BIG GUNS

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senate investigators said today their search for evidence of underworld infiltration of the boxing business will bring in some big shot witnesses for questioning.

The Senate Antitrust and Monopoly subcommittee plans to launch the public hearings in January. Its announced objectives are to show whether gangsters and others of evil fame have gained too strong a foothold in boxing and whether monopolistic practices are involved. Now legislation may be proposed.

Many Schemes

Sen. Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn), the subcommittee chairman, has said proposals for weeding out the unsavory characters range all the way up to a scheme for licensing the entire interstate boxing industry and all those engaged in it.

Rand Dixon, subcommittee counsel, told newsmen the hearings may start with the alleged efforts of hoodlums to share in the profits from world heavyweight and welterweight boxing matches.

He said the subcommittee also wants more facts about allegations that powerful underworld figures, or men with underworld connections, have asserted increasing power over match-making, and used this as a means for profitable monopolistic practice.

Seek Salerno

Dixon said investigators are seeking Anthony (Fat Tony) Salerno of Harlem for questioning about outsiders' efforts to cash in on the heavyweight fight in which Ingemar Johansson of Sweden won Floyd Patterson's world title this year. No one has charged that anything was wrong with the fight itself.

Frankie Carbo of New York, long a behind-the-scenes power in boxing, is regarded as a sure shot witness. Carbo is awaiting sentence on his plea of guilty to three criminal charges involving boxing.

Another potential witness is Mickey Cohen, who says he has broken with the gangs and is going straight.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP)—A dozen teams—six of them from the Southeastern Conference—are on the Gator Bowl selection committee's list of eligibles.

An SEC team has played in the past seven Gator Bowl games and the 15th annual game Jan. 2 is expected to include at least one again.

The list of possibilities: Georgia, Mississippi, Louisiana State, Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Miami of Florida, Penn State, Clemson, Southern Methodist, Texas Christian and Arkansas.

Teammates Share Scoring Honors

NEW YORK (AP)—Teammates Floyd Smith and Art Stratton are 1-2 in the American Hockey League scoring race after a couple of spurts that helped hoist the Springfield Indians into first place.

Smith jumped to a five-point lead—largest of the season—with eight points last week for a total of 28. Stratton picked up seven points for a 23-point total, one more than rookie Stan Baluk of Providence.

Smith is tied with Buffalo's Larry Wilson for the goals lead with 11. Stratton's tops with 18 assists, according to official statistics released today.

Hershey's Bobby Perreault leads the goalies with a 2.41 goals against average and three shutouts.

BIG 10 STANDS AS TOUGHEST GRIDIRON LOOP

By JOE MOOSHIL

Associated Press Sports Writer

CHICAGO (AP)—The Big Ten is still one of the toughest football leagues in the country, if not the toughest.

Although Western Conference members have been knocking off each other with monotonous regularity, clubs outside the family have not found them easy to handle.

Against nonleague opposition, the Big Ten stands 14-5, discounting one tie. If Michigan State defeats Miami of Florida and Iowa down Notre Dame this weekend, the record will be 16-5.

Keep Big Ten Strong

This mark would be the second finest in more than a decade. In 1956 the Big Ten bowled over outside competition 19 times in 24 games.

Three years ago the Big Ten adopted the program of financial aid on a basis of need. A cry went up that the better football players would go to schools outside the conference.

This may be true. But while the plan definitely has leveled off competition, within the league, it has not injured Big Ten strength against independents and teams from other leagues.

Interior Upsets

In fact, the Big Ten is enjoying a greater success against outside foes than it did some 10 years ago. In the last four years the Big Ten has amassed a 64-23 record against nonleague teams.

One fact is significant in Big Ten football these days and that is the have-nots are riding high. Northwestern, which is fighting for the championship this weekend, has been a doormat for years.

Indiana, another toughie, was alongside Northwestern. In fact, two years ago neither Indiana nor Northwestern won a single conference game.

BLACK HAWKS BEATEN AGAIN

DETROIT (AP)—The Chicago Black Hawks are back in the giveaway business after a brief interlude of prosperity.

The Hawks returned to their wasteful ways Monday night and dissipated a two-goal lead in losing 3-2 to the Detroit Red Wings. Only 24 hours before, Chicago had ended a 14-game winless streak with its first victory since the National Hockey League's opening night—a 5-3 comeback triumph over Detroit.

The victory seemed to spur the Hawks on through 48 minutes of Monday night's game before they lapsed into their old habits. They enjoyed a 2-0 lead and had outshot the weary Wings by 10 shots. Then in a flash of 5½ minutes a Detroit counterattack notched three goals.

A couple of former Black Hawks, Jack McIntyre and John McKenzie, evened the score for Detroit by 10:32 of the final period. Gordie Howe, as productive as ever in his 14th NHL season, applied Detroit's clinching goal three minutes later.

Second-period markers by Murray Balfour and Bill Hay had provided Chicago with its wasted advantage.

The game was the only one on the NHL docket and there are none tonight.

ONE-EYED BACK IS BIG SPARK FOR HUSKIES

By JACK CLARY

Associated Press Sports Writer

Before the season began Washington's Huskies were supposed to be in need of offensive punch. But those were the days when quarterback Bob Schloredt was still on the second team. Things have changed since—very drastically.

Schloredt's biggest handicap, it was thought at the time, was his use of only one eye. He lost his left eye in a childhood accident. However, he was given the job of doing the team's punting, a chore he performed for a 55-yard average in the first game, playing behind No. 1 signal-caller Bob Hivner.

But Hivner broke a finger and Schloredt was given the top job. He didn't waste much time in proving his one eye was more than equal to the normal quota.

Stars Against Utah

Playing less than 15 minutes in the Huskies' 51-6 victory over Utah, he completed the three passes he attempted for 97 yards and one touchdown. In addition, he ran 27 yards with an intercepted pass for another score, kicked two extra points and ran for two more.

Since then, he has teamed with backfield mates George Fleming and Don McKeta to make Washington's original need for offensive power seem a bit far-fetched.

Won Eight Of Nine

The Huskies have won eight of nine games, losing only to undefeated Southern California 22-15, and wind up the regular season against Washington State on Saturday. A victory will put them in the Rose Bowl.

Even against Southern Cal's powerful defense, Schloredt stood out. He scored both his team's touchdowns on runs of 8 and 5 yards and ran for two extra points.

It has been his ability to run, as well as pass and kick, that has boosted the Huskies' offense.

Kansas Loses Center

Kansas may be without No. 1 center Fred Hageman Saturday when it plays Missouri in a game that may give the Jayhawkers second place in the Big Eight and the Orange Bowl trip. Maryland quarterback Dick Novak is finished for the season because of a fractured bone in his left arm, suffered last Saturday against Clemson.

Fullback Jack Laraway and center Terry Sheehan are out of Purdue's finale Saturday against Indiana with a dislocated shoulder and concussion, respectively.

Northwestern has halfback Ron Burton, quarterback Bob Eichoff, guard Pete Arena and end Irv Cross on the injury list after last Saturday's loss to Michigan State. All are expected to be ready for Illinois.

FIGHT REPORTS ANGER CHAMP

SALT LAKE CITY (AP)—NBA middleweight champion Gene Fullmer is quite mad at all these reports he hears about Spider Webb already planning a return match.

So mad, in fact, that Gene says he'll knock Webb cold in their title fight Dec. 4 at Logan.

Gene's manager, Mary Jensen, says "all this talk from the Webb camp about where the rematch will be held hit Gene the wrong way."

"Same Treatment"

"As far as he's concerned Webb will get the same treatment Carmen Basilio received in San Francisco."

Gene won his title from Basilio with a knockout.

Under the Fullmer-Webb fight contract's return match clause, Fullmer gets a rematch if Webb beats him.

"As far as I'm concerned," Gene said Monday, "the rematch clause will be eliminated Dec. 4 in Logan."

Webb arrives today from Chicago and will train at his alma mater, Idaho State College in Pocatello.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Senior guard Bobby Longfellow of the Pitt Panthers may not play against Penn State here Saturday because of injuries.

Longfellow suffered a possible torn knee cartilage in Pitt's 28-13 upset victory over Notre Dame last Saturday.

PITTSBURGH (AP)—Charle-roi will clash with Aliquippa at Pitt Stadium, Nov. 28, for the WPIAL's Class AA football championship.

Bradlock is pitted against Waynesburg at Washington, Pa., and Avonworth meets Union Twp. at Beaver Falls for the Class A and Class B titles respectively.

Both games will be played next Friday night.

LEWISBURG Pa. (AP)—Tom Thompson of Kane has been named captain of the Bucknell basketball team. He also is a guard on the football team.

Bucknell opens its 1959-60 basketball season here December 2 against Franklin & Marshall.

Blue Grass Bowl Sounds Out Pitt

LOUISVILLE, Ky. (AP)—The Blue Grass Bowl Football Committee may learn after this week whether Pittsburgh will play in the Dec. 12 game.

Bowl Chairman D. B. Murrell said Monday he has talked to Pittsburgh and Alabama officials about playing in the bowl, which was a financial failure in 1958, its first year.

Frank Carver, Pitt's acting athletic director, said in Pittsburgh that he will present the bid to the Athletic Committee Wednesday.

He pointed out that the bowl date is bad for Pitt because its players must study for examinations that start Dec. 14.

BOWL ELEVENS WAIT ON LAST GRID BATTLES

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The major post-season bowls are as muddled as ever today with top-ranked Syracuse the only team to accept a bid. The undefeated Orange will play the Southwest Conference champion in the Cotton Bowl in Dallas on New Year's Day.

Here is the situation with the New Year's Day bowls:

Rose Bowl: Wisconsin, Northwestern and Michigan State are tied for the Big Ten lead, with MSU finishing its conference schedule at 4-2. Wisconsin plays Minnesota and Northwestern faces Illinois this Saturday. The host team probably will be Far West Five member Washington, which closes against Washington State.

Sugar Bowl: Georgia, Louisiana State and Mississippi all have choices for the host spot, with LSU the best bet since the other two favor outside bowls. The competition probably will come from the No. 2 or 3 team in the Southwest Conference, possibly Arkansas or Texas Christian.

Cotton Bowl: The Southwest Conference champion, with second-place Texas still favored, Syracuse is in.

Orange Bowl: The Big Eight representative, as host, will come from either Missouri or Kansas, who play each other Saturday, or Iowa State, which faces conference leader Oklahoma, ineligible to come after winning last year.

The visitor probably will be Georgia, Southeastern Conference champ. Penn State, Clemson, and some of the runners-up in the SEC are possibilities.

Gator Bowl: Wide-open with Georgia, Mississippi, LSU, Alabama, Tennessee, Georgia Tech, Miami (Fla.), Penn State, Clemson, SMU, TCU and Arkansas tops on the list.

Blue Grass Bowl (Louisville, Ky., Dec. 12)—Alabama and Pitt reportedly have been invited.

Blue Bonnet Bowl (Houston, Dec. 19)—Arkansas of the Southwest Conference and Ole Miss are as best bets.

Liberty Bowl (Philadelphia, Dec. 19)—Penn State has been invited and probably will accept, with likely opponents from among Mississippi, LSU, Georgia, TCU, Clemson and the Air Force.

The following smaller bowls have been filled:

Mineral Water Bowl (Excelsior Springs, Mo., Nov. 28)—College of Emporia (Kan.) vs. Austin (Tex.).

Sun Bowl (El Paso, Tex., Dec. 31)—New Mexico State vs. North Texas State.

Tangerine Bowl (Orlando, Fla., Nov. 16)—Middle Tennessee State vs. Presbyterian (S.C.).

LEADS MICHIGAN STATE TO TITLE

NEW YORK (AP)—Crawford Kennedy Monday won the ICA cross country title over Van Cortlandt Park's 5-mile course, to lead Michigan State to the team crown for the fourth straight year.

Michigan State wound up with 50 points to 105 for second place Army.

In addition, Crawford broke big brother Henry's ICA record with a 23:51.6 clocking. Henry set the old mark of 24:01 in 1956, so Crawford thus becomes the first to go under 24 minutes for the exhausting grind.

Penn State was third in team standings with 167 points, Notre Dame fourth with 196 and Syracuse fifth with 206.

Freshman winner was Gerald Norman of Penn State, who covered the 3-mile course in 14:30.8. St. John's of New York won the team title with 104 points.

SYRACUSE U. STAYS ON TOP IN GRID POLL

By ED WILKS

Associated Press Sports Writer

Syracuse continued its magic of managing to be more and more impressive with each game and marked its second straight week as the No. 1 college football team in the nation today—unbeaten, untied and unchallenged in The Associated Press poll.

The Orange, with two regular season games left before a New Year's Day date in the Cotton Bowl at Dallas, were named first on 126 of the 253 ballots cast by sportswriters and sportscasters for almost a 2-1 margin over runner-up Mississippi.

They did it by whipping expected pushover Colgate by an unexpected 71-0 to retain the No. 1 berth they gained in a seven-week rise from 20th.

Longhorns Drop

The rankings, determined by total points awarded on a basis of 10 for first, nine for second, etc., show Syracuse with 2,145 points to 1,859 for Mississippi, which drew 68 first place votes.

Ole Miss moved up from fifth in a swap with Texas after the Longhorns were handed their first defeat, 14-9, by Texas Christian.

Louisiana State, which tumbled to third a week ago after a 14-13 upset by Tennessee, remained No. 3 behind Mississippi—whose lone loss was to LSU (7-3). Ole Miss walloped Tennessee 33-7 last Saturday.

Southern California Fourth

Southern California, matching Syracuse's 8-0 record as the only perfect-record clubs left among the majors, stayed fourth.

Georgia jumped to sixth from 12th after beating Auburn 14-13. Penn State, beaten only by Syracuse (20-18), moved from 10th to seventh, while Northwestern and Wisconsin each dropped two places, to eighth and ninth after suffering their second defeats.

TCU, also a two-time loser, shot up to 10th from 18th for its job on Texas.

REG. U.S. PAT. OFF.
by FREDERICK C. RUSSELL member S.A.E.

Another kind of "compact" car is one that's caught between two other cars in a panic stop.

We are definitely back into the season of year when it is important to change our methods for starting the engine. It doesn't vary much from the method used during the warm weather season but as in all things related to cars a little usually means a lot in results. From here on we'll need to give the accelerator pedal one full downward press. This need not be a job but a deliberate pressing of the pedal to the full throttle position. When you lift your foot from the pedal the throttle is then set for fast idle, the choke is in the fully closed position and things are ready for cranking.

If the engine then fails to start, and provided the engine is quite cold, a second try will usually do the trick. Any further effort is a hint that breaker points and spark plugs may need checking, the oil in the engine is too heavy or the battery is unable to provide cranking speed sufficiently high for good compression. There may also be evidence that the fuel pump is weak.

"Feeling" Bearing Noise

When there's an odd noise in the car, even though it seems to come from the rear, the smart carter is to assume that the front wheel bearings need checking. This is easily done. Jack each wheel separately and spin it. With your hand placed against the nearest bumper or fender you can actually feel the vibration which becomes the rasping noise of a worn or defective bearing. Since front wheel bearing lubrication is so often completely overlooked any such problems is really a blessing in disguise.

As was to be expected the trade is stirred up over the difference of opinion regarding when to change engine oil. One side says the refiners want to sell more oil, the other contends that the car makers have stretched out the oil change mileage in order to reduce car operation costs. In between stand engineers and mechanics who know from experience that engines differ as to oil requirements largely because of the way their cars are driven.

I've done a lot of checking on this and find that the best advice is to change oil at least every 1,000 miles in winter if the car is driven for short runs largely, and to change every 2,000 miles or over in summer, provided the oil level is kept up as needed.

Warren Chevrolet Service

Lincolnway East Gettysburg, Pa.

"Most motorists know that if the engine fails to pick up speed normally when urged by the driver the chances are that the carburetor's acceleration pump needs rebuilding, but there are some minor lapses in pump action which may be mistaken for electrical trouble. One of these is failure of the pump to hit maximum because there is a little dirt or foreign matter in the intake or the discharge side of the pump.

"Sometimes the piston of the pump sticks a bit in its cylinder. Another thing to check into is the tension of the piston return spring. Some pumps have a link to prevent the throttle connecting rod from bending."

What's Your Trouble?

Q. My car has developed the habit of shimmying at lower speeds. Does this mean that the tires need balancing?

A. Unbalance causes shimmy at speeds over 30 mph. Check for looseness in the steering system, underinflation, excessive caster, defective shock absorbers, weak springs or loose wheel bearings.

Q. There is general noise in the engine when then things are well warmed up. Would you say this indicates worn timing gears?

A. This simply means that the oil is breaking down. Probably the engine needs an oil change and a check-up on its cooling system.

Q. I have often wondered why the car engineers do not provide for sucking crankcase vapors back into the engine. There must be some unburned fuel in these vapors, and the oil in them certainly would help lubricate the upper cylinder walls.

A. This has been tried many times, but the joker is that engine operation is below par during the warm-up period. Experience demonstrates that it is better to carry vapors away through the crankcase ventilating system.

Q. A new quick type seal in the rear of the engine hasn't checked oil loss into the clutch. What next?

A. Probably the rear main bearing itself needs replacing. But try another seal first. You may not have done a good job of it.

Q. What is the purpose of toe-in in front wheels of a car?

A. This eliminates the unfavorable effect of camber when the car is being driven in the straight-ahead position. Camber causes the front wheels to want to roll-outward. Toe-in teams with caster and camber to produce what we know as front-end alignment. One affects the other.

Q. Lately I have been noticing oil spots under the engine on the garage floor. There doesn't seem to be any leakage around the oil filter, nor is the engine oil pan loose.

A. Check the rear of the valve compartment covers. This is a likely spot for leakage. But don't overtighten the covers as you may cause them to buckle. That makes leakage worse.

Q. Does a radiator pressure cap build up pressure in the cooling system even in cold weather?

A. Yes, as soon as the system reaches normal operating temperature and the coolant expands.

Q. The left front brake of my car grabs just about every time I slow down. There is no grease or oil on the lining, and the shoes seem to be working freely.

A. All the evidence points to a warped brake drum for that wheel.

Q. What caused teeth to break on the flywheel ring gear?

A. An abnormally advanced spark will do this by causing a backfire.

Mr. Russell will answer questions regarding the same car and operation of your car. Just address him care of the Gettysburg Times and enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope for a personal reply. Please confine inquiries to one subject and limit letters to 100 words or less.

MOURNING FOR LINCOLN TOLD BY COUNTIAN

Lincoln's death plunged the nation into mourning and an echo still survives in the cramped handwriting of an Adams County soldier returning from the war.

Jacob Henry Gobrecht, a member of the 1st Company, 56th Regiment, 3rd Division, 3rd Brigade, Fifth Corps, who lived in Union Twp., kept a diary of his experiences in the Army.

In a few brief words the diary, now in possession of David C. Houck, Arendtsville, tells of the draping of flags in every town.

As deciphered by Carol Houck, eighth grade student at Biglerville High School, as part of the program being carried on by the history department in the county's schools to uncover details of the county's Civil War history, Pvt. Gobrecht wrote:

"On the 15th of April, 1865, we left Camp Biddle, Carlisle, and went on to Harrisburg. First we came to New Kingston, then on to Mechanicsburg, then on to Shermansburg. We then crossed the Susquehanna River over a bridge one and one-quarter miles long and then landed in Harrisburg, Pa. Along the road in every town the flags involved in black drapes on account of the death of our President, which took place at seven o'clock in the morning."

COMMITTEE LIFE IS FULL OF PROBLEMS

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — One test of a successful man today is how many committees he can serve on without shortening his life.

We live in an age of togetherness, and our lives are largely ruled by committee-made decisions.

To have an active social life today, you almost have to serve on a committee dedicated to one cause or another. One's importance in the community often is measured by the number of committees one serves on.

Experience Needed

But committee work is a thing a fellow has to learn by personal experience whether he can take in stride or should leave strictly alone.

Serving on too many committees undoubtedly has killed by aggravation and overwork many men in their middle years who might otherwise have lived to a graceful and serene old age. They had become addicts. They didn't know how to handle it.

Haunting indeed are the sordid stories of those who tried to raise their social status by joining a committee, then found their lives ruined as one committee led to another, until finally there was no stopping.

Here is one man's story:

"The Neighborhood Assn. asked me to serve on a committee to improve the beach. I said yes. Then I joined a lodge and a church, and they both soon put me on committees.

More Of The Same

"We were invited to a lot of parties, and it seemed like at each party they organized a new committee, and I was always asked to join, and I did. I joined a committee to get rid of covered bridges.

"I joined a committee to send books to the Hottentots, a committee to save the barn owl, and a committee to improve the railroad's commuter service.

"I joined the mayor's committee to bring new industry into town, and I joined another committee to keep the town zoned only for private homes.

Mayor's Possibility

"At the end of the first year I guess I must have been about the best known man in town, and they were even talking about running me for mayor. I was serving on 68 committees, and being invited to join new ones at the rate of one a week.

"I was getting three hours sleep a night, making an average of 37 phone calls a day from my office on committee work, and living on pep pills that turned me into a nervous wreck. I was completely neglecting my own family and my own job.

"Well, the whole thing collapsed last week. My boss fired me, my wife ran off with a man down the street, and my two children were sent to reform school as juvenile delinquents.

Friends Outnumbered
"Naturally, I thought my friends on all those committees would stand by me in my hour of need. But do you know what I found

PROBERS SAY EXPLOSION RIPPED LINER

NEW ORLEANS (AP) — Was there an explosion aboard the National Airlines DC7B liner that crashed in the Gulf of Mexico Monday with 42 persons aboard? If there was, did it come before or after the crash?

Members of the party hunting in the shark-infested waters for bodies believe there was an explosion. But they don't agree on when it occurred. There apparently were no survivors among the 36 passengers and 6 crew members to supply the answers.

Lt. James L. Sigman, executive officer of the Coast Guard air detachment at New Orleans, said the wreckage was spread over a comparatively small area of two out. I found out that for every fair-weather friend you make by serving on committees, you make at least two all-weather enemies.

"My neighbors now are organizing a committee to ask me to sell the house and move away as an undesirable member of the community. It's a funny thing. That's the only committee in town I haven't been asked to join."

FIND 80,000 POUNDS OF CRANBERRIES WITH TAIN

WASHINGTON (AP) — Of the 3 1-3 million pounds of cranberries tested so far, 80,000 pounds have shown traces of a weed killer that causes cancer in rats.

Those statistics came from Secretary of Welfare Arthur S. Flemming Monday night. But at the same time he announced action had been started to seize 25 tainted cases of canned cranberries grown in Wisconsin and shipped to Nashville, Tenn.

"The great majority of the tests for the weed killer has shown no contamination," Flemming said. "This is encouraging, and a trend that I hope continues as the testing proceeds."

Flemming is meeting with cranberry industry leaders Wednesday.

to three miles. This indicated to him, he said, that the explosion came after the plane hit the water.

Recover Nine Bodies

But two Air Force fliers who spent four hours over the scene said because the wreckage was so scattered it seemed to them that plan exploded in the air.

The two were Capt. Raymond M. Griswold, pilot of an SA16 Albatross amphibian search and rescue plane, and Capt. Peter Palazzolo, the navigator.

"If the plane had been in a large piece or pieces when she hit the water, the wreckage would have been more concentrated. It wouldn't have covered a five-mile area," Griswold said.

Both said the bodies they saw were floating face down and their clothes were ripped to shreds as if from an explosion.

Nine bodies picked up Monday were brought to the Keessler Air Force Base hospital early today.

day. He said he is extremely hopeful the growers can come up with a plan to make it possible "to segregate contaminated from uncontaminated berries on a large scale than is now possible through laboratory testing lot."

Already, he said, Ocean Spray Cranberries, Inc., has voluntarily withdrawn several million pounds of berries from the market to await analysis by government chemists. Ocean Spray is a cooperative of growers that handles 75 per cent of the nation's cranberry crop.

The Nashville shipment was the second batch of Wisconsin cranberries found to contain the weed killer, aminotriazole. Previously, the only tainted berries found were grown in Washington and Oregon.

Food and Drug Administration officials said the shipment of 600 pounds to Nashville was made by a Chicago wholesaler whom they didn't identify. Samples were tested at a government laboratory at Cincinnati and found to be contaminated.

The Illinois agriculture director, Stillman J. Stannard, has banned sale of cranberries in that state until further notice. He said most of the berries used in Illinois come from Wisconsin and he had been informed that 25 per cent of the Wisconsin crop had been exposed to aminotriazole.

Cuban Agrarian Reform Law Is Characterized By Force

By HAROLD K. MILKS
HAVANA (AP) — The takeover of Cuban and foreign-owned ranch and farm property by Fidel Castro's forces appears more and more to be following only one law—the law of force.

Although the sweeping agrarian reform law adopted by Castro's revolutionary cabinet last May gave his representatives power to seize big estates, the government's agents are taking over buildings, equipment and livestock as well.

Estimates of the amount of land seized now reach into the millions of acres. Most of it so far is in cattle-rich Camaguey and Oriente provinces, and in Pinar del Rio, where most of Cuba's fine tobacco is grown. Most sugar estates are being left alone for the present—so as not to reduce the next harvest.

Steadfast Group
Cuban lawyers representing the landowners say appeals to points of law with agents of the government's powerful Institute of Agrarian Reform (INRA) frequently bring the reply "What law? We are the law."

Files of the United States Embassy are rapidly filling with reports of cases in which Castro agents—usually bearded military officers backed by squads of armed soldiers—moved in and seized equipment, cattle and buildings.

The agrarian reform law provides for expropriation of land for distribution among the landless but contains no provision for seizure of agricultural machinery, other equipment or livestock.

Ignore Law
"So-called agrarian institute delegates pay no attention to this law when they intervene in properties," said one Cuban lawyer. "They just take over and all our

SENATE FACES 6 NOMINATIONS BY LAWRENCE

HARRISBURG (AP) — Gov. Lawrence has asked the Republican-controlled Senate to confirm appointment of Democrats to five high-level state posts and an Allegheny County judgeship.

Some of the appointments made Monday may be headed for trouble in the Senate.

These include the nomination of Mayor Robert W. Anthony of Altoona to the Public Utility Commission and John R. Torquato of Johnstown to the Pennsylvania Securities Commission.

Seven-month Delay
The Senate already has delayed action for seven months on another Democratic PUC appointee, William F. O'Hara of Scranton. Confirmation of both Anthony and O'Hara would give Democrats control of the commission and 200 patronage jobs for the first time in 20 years.

Anthony became Altoona's first Democratic mayor in 20 years when elected in 1955. He was named to the $19,000-a-year job to succeed the late Henry Houck of Shenandoah.

Torquato, 51-year-old Democratic chairman of Cambria County, was fired by former Gov. Leader as secretary of labor and industry in January 1957. He was accused of mishandling a special department fund.

Refused To Resign
The Johnstown insurance executive refused to resign from the job, saying it would be an admission of complicity. He also declared he was being made a "scapegoat" and that his Republican predecessor handled the fund in the same manner.

If confirmed, Torquato would fill the $11,000-a-year job created by the resignation of Elizabeth G. Zeidman of Rydal, Montgomery County.

Bennett Rodgers, Democratic city councilman of Pittsburgh, was named to succeed the late Gustav L. Schramm as a judge in Allegheny County's Juvenile Court.

Two Re-appointments
Sen. Robert Fleming (R-Allegheny) said he expected no opposition to Rodgers' appointment. The post pays $18,000 annually. Lawrence also made two re-

Truman, Medalist, Advises AFL-CIO

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The AFL-CIO gave Harry Truman a medal Monday night and got some advice in return.

The former president received the union's annual community service award—a bronze medallion and a $5,000 check.

Pointed Reference
Truman expressed his gratitude. Then, in an obvious reference to evidence of corruption in some unions, he said: "There is always trouble when people get too much money or too much power. The great thing about this country is that we are able to correct these situations and I know you are going to do it among yourselves."

"You know what I am talking about,"

LONDON (AP)—A British newspaper today said Irish nationalists are plotting to kidnap Prince Charles but Scotland Yard laughed the story off.

The Daily Herald claimed that fear of a swoop by Irish gunmen is the real reason for increased guards around Cheam School in Berkshire, where the 11-year-old heir to the British throne gets his education.

points to the three-man Tax Equalization Board. Reappointed were Chairman John Bevec of Strabane, Washington County, and Herbert J. McGlinchey of Philadelphia, who was out of the job for two years while under federal indictment in the Tobyhanna Signal Corps case. The new member would be Raymond E. Gardlock, three-term mayor of New Kensington, who was named to succeed Frank K. Cochran, Greensburg. Cochran's term is expiring.

McGlinchey was cleared of a federal trial early this year. He is now involved in litigation seeking back pay for the two years he was out of the $11,000-a-year tax board post.

TV SHORTHAND POINTED OUT BY AP CRITIC

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP) — Once it was easy to tell the heroes from the villains in the television Westerns: The white hats were the good guys and the black hats were the bad guys. Good old Hopalong Cassidy was the exception.

This simple method of establishing horse operas has long since bitten the dust.

But shortcuts to characterization are still in use, so often that we viewers scarcely notice them.

Some Examples
Liquor cabinet with whisky in decanters in foreground, grand piano in background—these people are rich.

Cocktail party with women smoking—these people are sophisticated and the host is probably a book publisher, a corporation lawyer or an advertising executive.

Girl in an evening gown or cocktail dress made of shiny material—this woman is fast!

Woman wearing simple frock, single string of pearls and gloves—a lady.

TV Shorthand
Man wearing sleeveless sweater, smoking pipe, sitting in front of open fire—a happy husband.

Unshaven man—he has a hangover, has been shot and seriously wounded or has lost his way in the desert.

Girl in dress with Peter Pan collar preparing coffee in an expensively furnished and beautifully decorated apartment—this is a secretary living in the usual working girl's one-room flat.

There are lots of other examples of TV shorthand. Look closely and make your own list.

Red Rowe Carbon Copy
CBS must have scouted far and wide to find a personality who, it hopes, will creep into the hearts of the morning TV watchers as did Arthur Godfrey. Obviously, they think they have found him in Red Rowe, who Monday made his network debut at 10 a.m. Rowe not only is reported to have red hair, but plays a guitar (it looks like a big ukulele) and sings agreeably, talks soothingly, informally and with mild humor.

He comes to with a bunch of regulars—a girl singer, a boy singer and a small orchestra. Red wanders around making mild jokes and general pleasantries with them and everybody on the show laughs uproariously. If it all sounds familiar, it is—a carbon of the old Godfrey show.

Hostesses To Strike Against Air Line

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP) — A strike by hostesses against Trans World Airlines is scheduled for 9 a.m. Wednesday.

Negotiations remained deadlocked today in a dispute over wages and hours for hostesses on jet aircraft.

"Rugged Situation"
Leverett Edwards, a federal mediator, said "it looks like a very rugged situation at the moment." Roland K. Quinn, president of the Air Line Stewards and Stewardesses Assn., agreed. John P. Mead, chief negotiator for TWA, declined comment.

Details of the dispute were not revealed. Current wage scales were not available.

3 STABBINGS AROUSE TOWN
TUPELO, Miss. (AP) — Residents of Tupelo, aroused by three stabbings of white men by Negroes, were warned today by Mayor James Ballard not to take action personally.

This northeastern Mississippi city already was under an 11 p.m. curfew ordered by Police Chief Robert Monaghan.

The latest victim, Don Morris, 20, was reported in serious condition. After surgery late Monday night physicians said his chances for recovery were good.

Seven Negroes were picked up. Five were released after establishing alibis. Monaghan said the other two were drunk when arrested and added, "I wouldn't say we are holding them for any other reason."

Alonzo Dodson, 48, and Andy Mills, 16, were slashed Sunday night. They said three Negroes attacked them.
